

Blue Collar Proud Radio podcast: <https://bcpslow.com/069/>

Fred's interview starts at 30:40 in the BCP timeline for the show

069 – Fred Schilling, VP of Plumbers Without Borders
by Carter Harkins | Apr 12, 2017 | Episodes | 0 Comments

FACT: Every year, plumbers save more lives than doctors.

Today on the BCP Show we talk with Fred Schilling. He works with a unique humanitarian organization called Plumbers Without Borders, which helps make clean water possible in some of the most impoverished areas of the world. It's a fascinating and sobering discussion with a real blue-collar hero.

Announcements:

- Reminder personal and business taxes are due Tuesday, April 18th
- Our book is out! Paperback version available now on Amazon.com
- Free chapter of the book available on our site bcpslow.com/book
- North East/Mid-Atlantic Chimney Expo – APRIL 21 – 22, 2017
- Take a minute and fill out survey on our site please!
- Please leave us a review in iTunes

Invaluable information ★★★★★

by Ryan Skews – Feb 1, 2017

I have been listening to this show, from just after it started and have taken on so many nuggets of information that I am applying to my business. Carter, Taylor and their guests provide valuable insight into the workings of a Blue-Collar business and make this show a must-listen for anyone wanting to better themselves in this part of the service industry.

Fred Schilling's quote

